Farmer, Stick

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 7.—This city, New Haven, all around it, sees the day of another peaceful day. Thousands of cars are parked at a slant, along the streets, front bumpers touching, and the rear ends where buggies were parked in old days. No buggies now, but the hardware shop, the drug store, the bank.

THE train bound for the Pacific, the Santa Fe, goes through the fields of level cornfields, stubble and grain husked, carried away. No more buggies could transform those fields into newsprint, but the train will take the newsprint to the Pacific. That will happen, and the farmer may live to see his corn worth more than his corn.

KANSAS CITY, "Back East," wants the 1928 Republican convention, says the Kansas City Star, to be held in Kansas City. The Kansas City Star, "Back East," wants the 1928 Republican convention, says the Kansas City Star, to be held in Kansas City. The Kansas City Star, "Back East," wants the 1928 Republican convention, says the Kansas City Star, to be held in Kansas City.

It is a big country, wide and great, Kansas City knows. San Francisco, Portland, Maine, knows Miami, as little as Paris knows Paris.

But inside our boundaries, everywhere, no tariff walls separate the 48 united nations; brotherly cooperation makes them all more effective.

On the words of tongue or pen, the saddest for Miss Vivian Houser of Kansas City are these: "Every day that Chevrolet took Miss Houser to work at the Brockert Cement Co., 2035 E. Ninth-st., and brought her back every evening. She and her best friend, Betty Kilgore, drove about to get the air and on Sundays spent the day at the beach. No wonder Miss Houser adored this appeal to the thieves: 'These leave Chevrolet coupe taken from night where it may be found. No only heaven.'"

A human being without an automobile is like a bird in a cage. Perhaps Mr. Houser, president of General Motors, will help Miss Houser to get another Chevrolet.

CONGRESS opens with 5,400 new bills introduced. Congressmen of Michigan wants a national prohibition to repeal the prohibition act. He won't get it.

Congressman Oliver of New York wants each community to decide how much alcohol makes a beverage "intoxicant." He won't get it.

Congressman Niedringhaus of Missouri would change the Volstead act to permit manufacture of 2.75 per cent. alcoholic beverages, meaning light beer. He won't get his wish.

THE big things before the Congress are Colorado River power and irrigation, control of Mississippi and other floods, construction of waterways and the taking of the Gulf and the coast and the question of tax reform.

Sen. Capper's able newspaper, The Topeka Capital, quotes this figure: "The farmer fears he is on the downward road to pauperism; wonders why he should stick to the plow and hold his children to a calling stigmatized everywhere."

TWO million farmers have quit the farms during the last six years. United as you cross Senator Capper's beautiful state of Kansas that many of the two millions regret it. A Kansas farm just opposite the car window with hay stacks, straw stacks, piles of corn cobs, a good barn, hen house, pigsty, cattle and horses in the shed and an automobile in the shed, is a considerable improvement on a California farm.

BRITISH IMPRESSED
President's Prosperity and Armament References Create Stir
London, Dec. 7.—President Coolidge's message to Congress, especially his references to armaments and prosperity, made a deep impression in Great Britain, as content by newspapers of all shades of political opinion indicated.

THE president's statement that the United States would continue her usual construction program regardless of any agreement that might have been reached in the unsuccessful Geneva conference failed to arouse any apprehension in British government circles.

Coolidge Asks $225,000,000 Tax Cut Limit

SAYS FURTHER REDUCTION IS UNWARRANTED

Executive Declares Bigger Slice Would Upset Financial Stability

TRANSMITS BUDGET

Estimated Surplus for 1929 Half That for 1928. It Is Said

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Tax reduction this session should be held to $225,000,000, President Coolidge declared today in transmitting to Congress his message on the budget for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1929.

Any further cut is unwarranted, the president said, and might upset the financial stability of the federal government. The house ways and means committee, in drafting the new revenue bill, has adhered fairly closely to the president's warning. It exceeded his figure by only approximately $10,000,000. A movement is under way, however, to increase the reduction when the bill gets to the floor of the House and Senate.

The estimated surplus for 1929 is $252,540,283, which is about half of the estimated surplus for 1928, and one-third of the actual surplus for the 1927 fiscal year.

The estimated surplus, as of next June is $454,283,806, or about twice the surplus indicated in the president's budget message last year.

The estimated cost of running the government in 1929 is $3,556,957,081, as against $3,021,514,285 estimated for 1928, or a reduction of $535,442,796. Estimated receipts for 1929 are $3,809,497,314, as against $3,075,508,041 for 1928, or a surplus of $733,989,273.

These figures do not include postal revenues and expenditures which are paid from postal receipts.

The expenditure estimate for 1929 does not include money for flood control, except the five-year allowance of $10,000,000 in the six-year program authorized by Congress. The president said that adequate flood protection "meets the requirement of absolute and urgent necessity."

"The budget, the president declared, has been 'directly responsible for our present position of financial stability.'"

"To jeopardize our balanced budget, to do anything that in the most remote future would lead to a return to the old ways, is a crime."

DENIES ENGAGEMENT

Belief Persists, However, That Kemal Pasha Will Wed Princess

LONDON, Dec. 7.—A recent report from Cairo that Mustapha Kemal Pasha, president of Turkey, is engaged to marry Princess Kubra, sister of the amir of Afghanistan, was denied in a dispatch from Constantinople today.

In view of the fact that the amir is planning to visit Ankara it is believed that the engagement may be announced later. The princess, who is 21, is in school in Paris.

Kemal divorced his first wife, Latife Hanoum, called "the most beautiful woman in Turkey," in August, 1925, on the ground that she "was meddling in politics."

STREET PLANS ARE OUTLINED BY ENGINEER

W. Center Improvement To Be Outstanding Constructive Step, Cathers Reveals

That the improvement of W. Center-st. from Oak-st. west to the railroad will be one of the most constructive steps taken by the city in years is indicated in the preliminary engineering details released today by City Engineer Tom S. Cathers following a conference Monday with George B. Casagiovich, Cleveland, who designed Marion's new sewage disposal plant.

Not only will the improvement provide a first class traffic artery from the west end to the heart of the city but it will correct a flood water condition that has caused no end of trouble for W. Center-st. merchants.

Likewise it will eliminate what officials have pictured as the city's worst eyesore.

Will Build Sewers
In addition to widening the thoroughfare from Oak-st. to the railroad by adding seven and three-quarter feet on both sides the city will build storm and sanitary sewers sufficiently large to take care of future needs. Masonry structures are to be avoided.

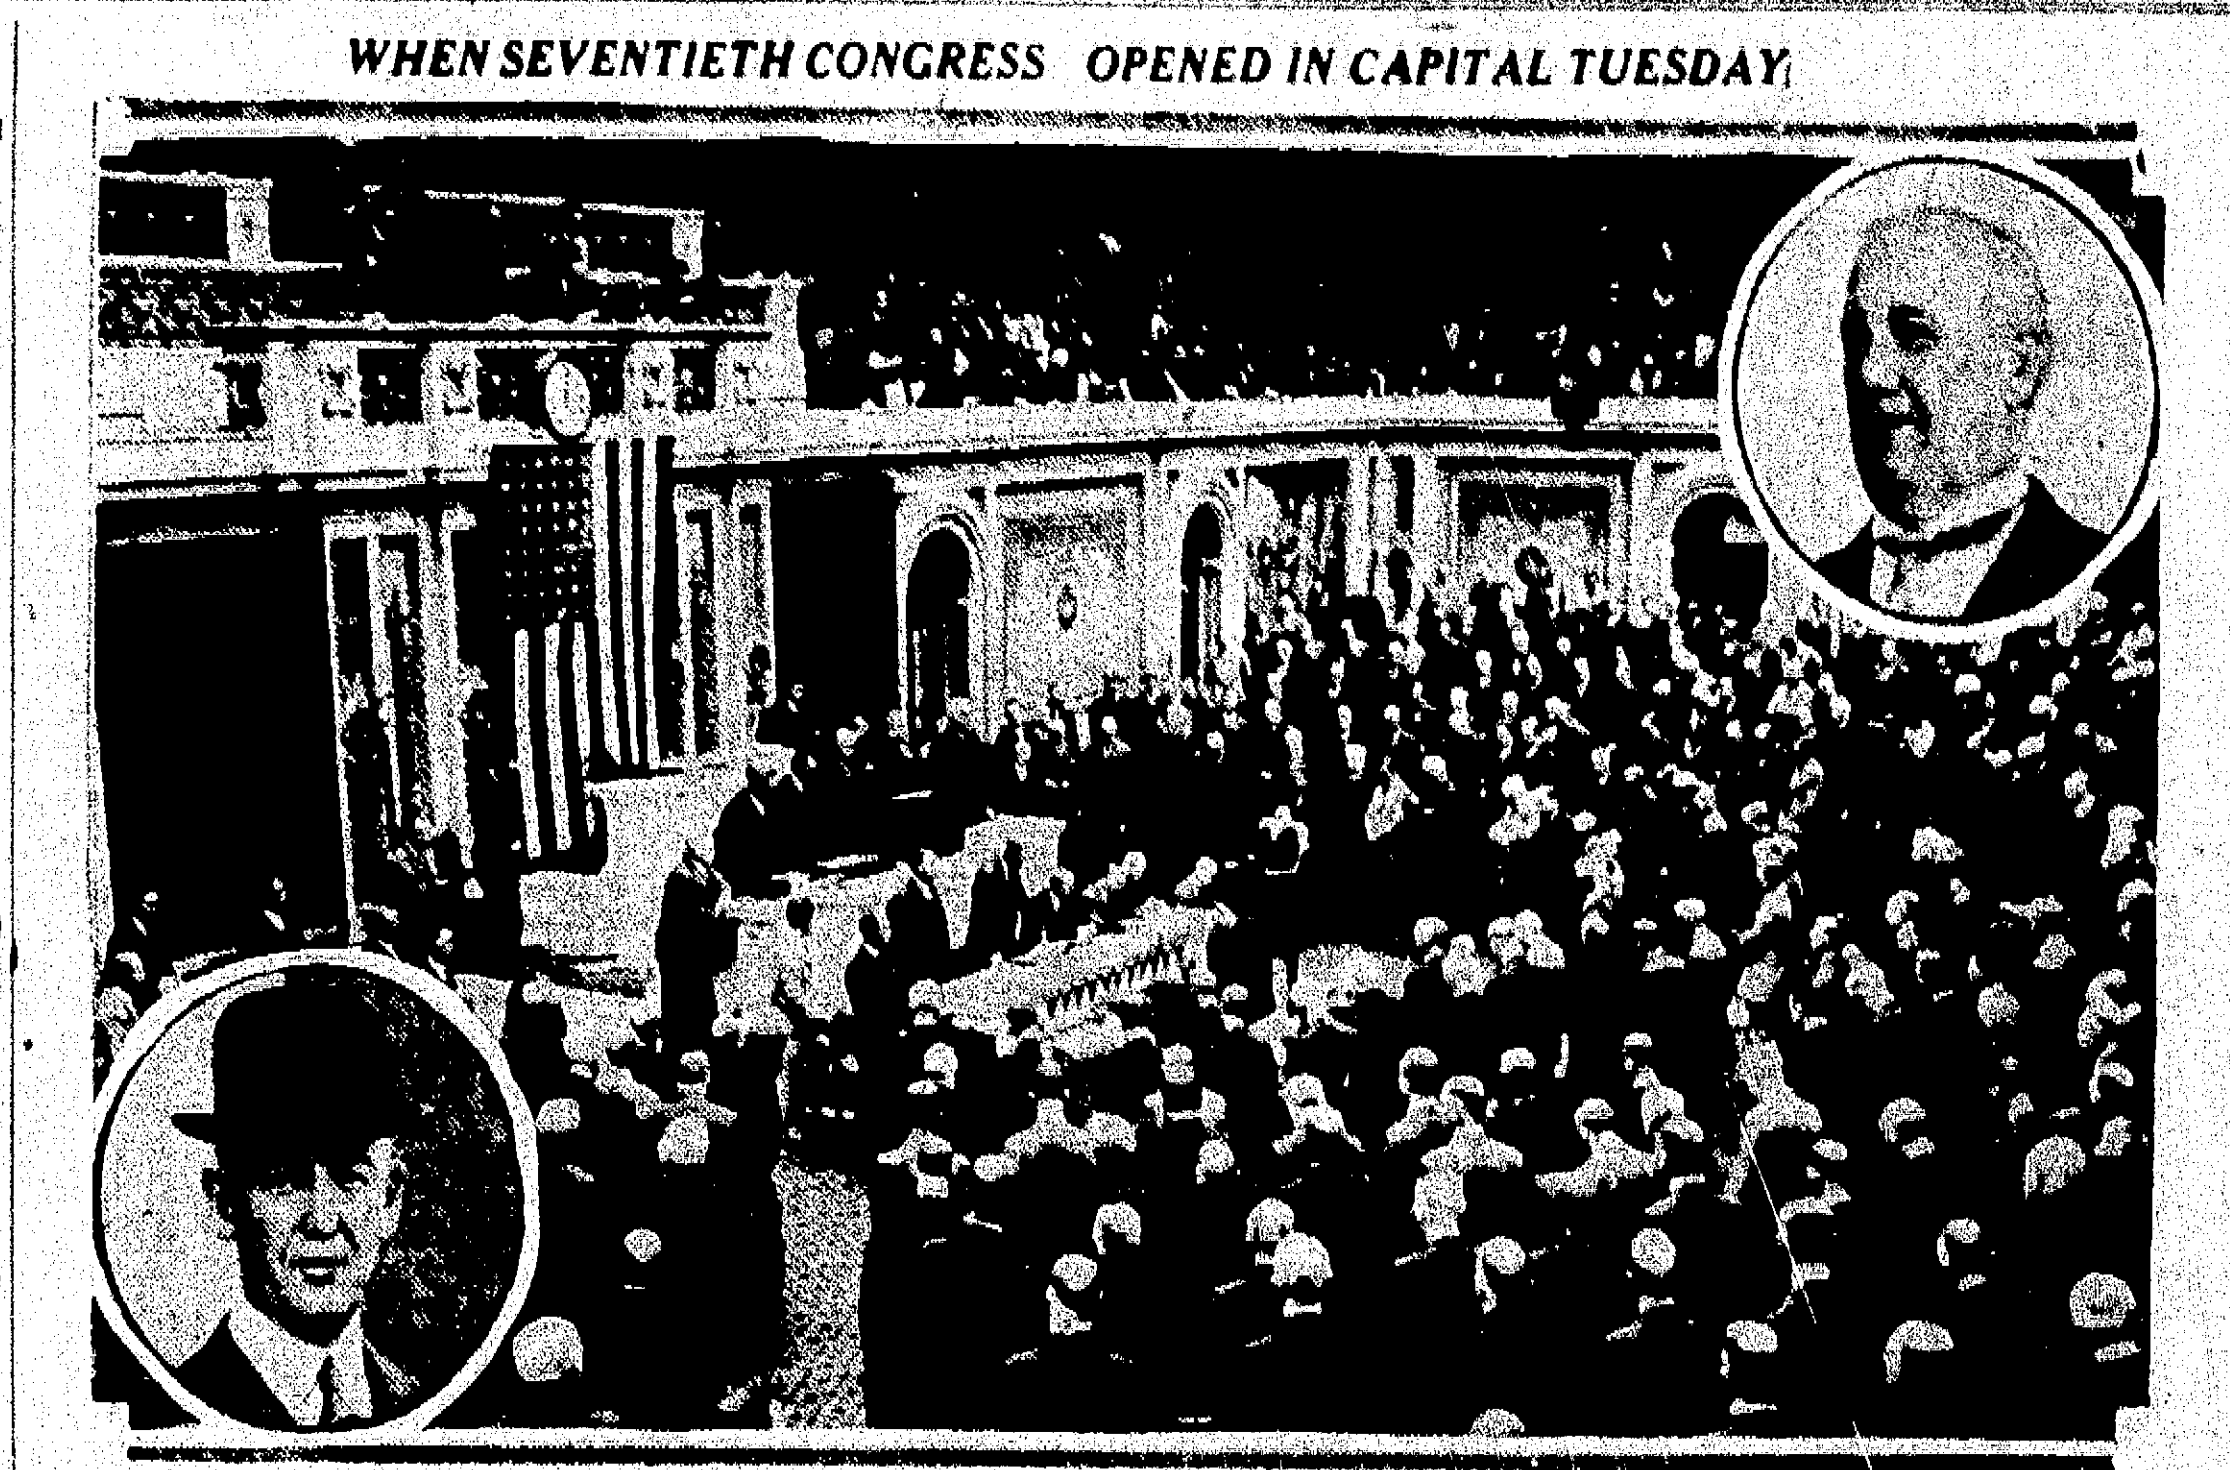

In conjunction with the work to be done by the city the Columbus, Delaware & Marion Electric Co. is arranging to rebuild its tracks, using 110-pound steel rail and eliminating the two transfers located at Garden-st. and Park-blvd. City cars will use a Y track to be installed at the company's new freight station opposite City Hall for a transfer.

While no decision has been reached as to the material to be used in the street paving it has practically been decided by the C. D. & M. Engineer Cathers said today, to construct a water-bound base of nine-inch rolled macadam, using crushed stone. On top of this it is proposed to lay brick between the rails and a foot on each side.

Work is to be started late this winter.

Sheriff's Posse Searches Wood for Youth Believed To Be Sub-Normal

St. Clairsville, Dec. 7.—A sheriff's posse today was searching the wood of Methodist Ridge, an isolated section several miles from here, for Andy Dyken, 15-year-old boy who last night killed his mother, Mrs. Mary Dyken, 32, and seriously wounded his father, Nick Dyken, 35.

Following its historic ritual, the seventieth session of Congress gets under way in Washington with the answering in of members preparing to taking up such issues as tax reduction, farm relief and flood control. Vane of Pennsylvania (right) were elected to be seated in under heavy applause.

CASE GOES TO JURORS TODAY

Mrs. Lillendahl and Beach May Know Their Fate Before Nightfall

Mays Landing, N. J., Dec. 7.—Mrs. Margaret Lillendahl may know by nightfall if she must die in the electric chair for the murder of her husband or if she can return a free woman to her South Vineland home and the enfolding arms of her eight-year-old son "Ally."

A quick verdict is expected from the jury of five married women and seven men who will decide the fate of the black-haired widow and Willis Beach, jointly accused with her of slaying Dr. William Lillendahl in an isolated lane near Hammonston on Sept. 15.

The case will go to the jury this afternoon, probably about 3 o'clock, after summations by both sides and the charge of Justice Luther A. Campbell. The trial has consumed 10 days.

For the first time in the history of murder trials in this part of the country the verdict will be announced by a woman juror, Mrs. Carrie L. Calhoun of Atlantic City.

Although refraining from mentioning the death penalty outright, Prosecutor Hinkle made it clear that the state seeks the electric chair for the widow and her alleged illicit lover when he said: "We ask a verdict of first degree murder, even though it carries a severe punishment."

REQUEST ACTION

Belmont County People Want Investigation of Bank Failures

Columbus, Dec. 7.—Gov. Vic Donahey today had under consideration a request from citizens of Bridgeport, Belmont County, that the governor request Attorney General Edward C. Turner to aid in the prosecution of persons believed to be responsible for the failure of banks in that vicinity during the past year.

The request was voiced by a delegation from Bridgeport, headed by T. R. Hughes. Members of the delegation voiced belief that persons originally involved in the failure of the banks had not been prosecuted and that the county prosecutor's office had failed to do its duty in this matter.

With the auditorium and Sunday School rooms of Epworth M. E. Church crowded to capacity, a two-day evangelistic conference of county-seat pastors and district superintendents of the Cincinnati area of the M. E. Church, Bishop Francis McConnell, L. L. D., of Pittsburgh, addressed the assembly, having his sermon on the conversion of Zaccheus, stressing particularly the fact that Zaccheus, regarded by the Jewish churchmen of his day as an outsider and despised Roman tax collector, in his spirit in the church, accepted the common verdict and lived accordingly.

"But Christ," the bishop said, "recognized no such classifications or conventions, taking every man and woman at his word, giving His attention to the possibilities of each. When Jesus passed by, Zaccheus climbed a tree that he might the better see Him and the

Smith Is Formally Denied Right To Take His Oath

Washington, Dec. 7.—All hopes of Senator-elect Frank L. Smith, Republican of Illinois, winning a senatorial term on the strength of his 1926 election disappeared late this afternoon when the senate, by a formal vote denied him the right to take his oath of office.

This action temporarily excluded Smith from the senate and even his most optimistic followers do not hope for a reversal of the decision in the future.

The vote came when the Senate defeated a resolution, offered by Senator Denen, Republican of Illinois, asking that the oath be administered to Smith, pending final settlement of the slush fund charges raised against his primary campaign.

The vote was 32 to 50. Twenty-seven Republicans and five Democrats voted to give the oath to Smith, while 12 Republicans, 27 Democrats and one Farmer-Laborite voted against him.

WILLIS IN RACE, COOLIDGE OUT

President Lets Leaders Know He Doesn't Intend To Be Candidate

Washington, Dec. 7.—President Coolidge had pretty well succeeded today in convincing even the most hard-balled skeptic that he is out of the 1929 presidential reckoning.

His statement to the Republican National Committee that he is not a candidate, coupled with his advice to the party to "proceed vigorously to the task of selecting another candidate," left those who have been leading the draft Coolidge movement but little ground to stand on.

It is true that Mr. Coolidge did not say, as he did not say last August, that he would not accept a nomination were it tendered him by the Republican convention next June. He has never said that, and apparently has no intention of saying it, for he has walked around the opportunity three times since his "I do not choose to run." For this reason there were still a few doubting Thomases in the capital today who insisted that the door to Coolidge's nomination had not been shut, although they admitted it is only left slightly ajar.

A great majority of the national committee, as well as a great majority of the Republicans in Congress, however, were won over to the idea that the president meant what he said. An example of this was the announcement of Sen. Frank B. Willis of Ohio that he would accept the invitation to be Ohio's favorite son in the race. Willis' colleague, Senator Foss, has been the most persistent of the "draft Coolidge" leaders.

As stated by the practical politicians here, the immediate effect of the president's statement was to

COMMITTEE IN DEADLOCK OVER SITE OF MEET

Kansas City Takes Lead Away from San Francisco on Ninth Ballot

CLEVELAND IS LOW

Ire of Some Delegates Aroused as Butler Swings His Support

Washington, Dec. 7.—The Republican National Committee was deadlocked after 10 ballots this afternoon in its efforts to pick the 1929 convention city.

At 1 o'clock the committee, unable to make headway, recessed for an hour. Feeling among partisans of the various cities was intense.

San Francisco led for eight ballots. Kansas City went ahead on the ninth and tenth, Detroit was far behind in third place, with Chicago, Philadelphia and Cleveland virtually out of the running.

The tenth ballot follows: Kansas City, 40; San Francisco, 41; Detroit, 9; Philadelphia, 3; Chicago, 3; and Cleveland, 1.

Washington, Dec. 7.—The Republican national convention today will be held at either San Francisco, Detroit or Kansas City, and the date fixed for June 12.

Several ballots and some "trading" probably will be necessary to determine the choice, for a poll of the committee showed sentiment about evenly divided between San Francisco and Kansas City, with Detroit occupying third place as an advantageous position for a compromise.

The revolt by San Francisco and Detroit backers against the efforts of Chairman William M. Butler to send the convention to Kansas City, continued in full force today, and left an atmosphere of tension to the session.

"San Francisco and Detroit will not permit the chairman of the national committee to dictate how the committee shall vote," said William H. Crocker, the California committeeman.

The ire of the San Francisco and Detroit forces was particularly aroused because of Butler's warning the southern members of the committee to Kansas City. Most of the southern members are federal officeholders and patronage dispensers in their status and thus are peculiarly amenable to party discipline.

There was some speculation today as to whether some of these Butler-bound votes might not slip away in view of President Coolidge's definitely eliminating himself from the presidential campaign this year.

The Ballots
San Francisco led on the first ballot, the vote being: San Francisco, 40; Kansas City, 24; Detroit, 16; Chicago, 4; Cleveland, 3; San Antonio, 2; and Philadelphia, 2.

No city obtained a majority on the fourth ballot, which follows: San Francisco, 48; Kansas City, 37; Detroit, 9; Chicago, 3; Cleveland, 3; and Philadelphia, 2.

The deadlock was unbroken on the fifth ballot, which follows: San Francisco, 47; Kansas City, 38; Detroit, 9; Chicago, 3; Cleveland, 3; and Philadelphia, 2.

There was no choice on the sixth ballot. The vote was: San Francisco, 40; Kansas City, 39; Detroit, 9; Philadelphia, 3; Chicago, 3; Cleveland, 2.

County Surveyor Constructs Culverts Around Grave Of Traveler Buried Along Road Nearly Century Ago

Body Laid to Rest in Richland Township in 1833 by Kind-Hearted Pioneers

A century ago John Grimm, a traveler from somewhere in the western portion of the United States, was passing through Marion County and was laid to rest in a grave near the roadside by kind-hearted country-folk who had heard of him during his last illness.

After the lapse of all these years, Marion County through one of its pioneers, has again looked after John Grimm's interests by protecting his grave against damage.

Grimm's last resting place is on the east side of what is known as the East River-Cardington road in Richland Township, 11 miles southeast of Marion. There his body has reposed since his death on Oct. 6, 1833.

Rough Trail

When the pioneers of Richland Township who defended this stranger and gave him a Christian burial, they did not know that unusual location for his grave. The East River-Cardington road was then a rough trail opened through rough territory. Travelers following its course were few and far between and there was nothing to indicate that the trail would sometime become an important thoroughfare for automobiles which needed no horses or other suitable motive power to take them over the ground.

Grimm's Slumbers On

For the march of progress went on, the traveler slumbered through the years.

A MARION CHILD IS RELIEVED OF LONG SUFFERING

Local Lady Tells How The New Konjola Compound Benefited Her Daughter

"I am so highly thankful for the great relief Konjola brought to our seven-year-old child that I will not only make a public statement of this wonderful medicine, but I will also tell my neighbors."

MARY CATHERINE MARTIN
AGE 7

"My friends know how much I think of this splendid preparation of yours." This remarkable statement about the new Konjola compound was made a few days ago by Mrs. H. E. Martin, well-known Marion lady, living at 34 Pearl Street, this city, while visiting with The Konjola Man at the Stump and Sams Pharmacy, 121 South Main Street, this city, where crowds of people call throughout each day to find relief for themselves about this surprising medical preparation that has recently appeared drug men and general public life in this entire section.

"For several months my little girl's health had been a constant worry to me," continued Mrs. Martin. "She wouldn't eat, was restless at night, and her weight and vitality were dropping away. She wouldn't play like other children and seemed to be in a stupor all the time. We gave her nearly everything recommended to us, and were informed by best authorities that it would take a long time to get her back to health again, as she was all run down."

"I decided to have her take Konjola, and while she has taken it only two days, I can truthfully say she is the picture of health. I think I must be the happiest woman in the city now. Before that my daughter's cheeks are turning pink color in them and her eyes sparkle with life. She is hungry all the time, and sleeps fine at night."

"Konjola has done more for my child than any medicine we tried. It relieved her of long suffering, and we want you to know how grateful we really are to this splendid medicine. We will always recommend it."

The Konjola Man is at the Stump and Sams Pharmacy, 121 South Main Street, Marion, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.

in his grave by the roadside and this year the East River-Cardington road was included in the trend of advancement. It was transformed during the last few months from a mud road to a modern thoroughfare of hard macadam surface.

In working out plans for the improvement County Surveyor C. H. Leavens discovered that Grimm's grave was directly in the line of the drainage ditch to be constructed at the side of the road.

Although Grimm, so far as is known, has been forgotten by any of his descendants or other relatives who may be living in the east, Leavens decided that the grave would be properly safeguarded against damage. Accordingly, he had culverts constructed at both sides of the grave, thus making certain that it would be kept dry and provided with proper drainage.

Object of Interest

Now, with the East River-Cardington road improvement completed, making it a modern hard-surfaced thoroughfare ideal for automobile travel, it is expected that Grimm's grave will become an object of considerable interest for motorists.

Although it has stood in the open country just five years less than a century, the square enclosure of limestone slabs in which the grave is located is in a remarkable state of preservation. The stone marker which stands at the head of the grave is also well preserved, and the inscription it bears is easily read. It is worded as follows:

"John Grimm, Died Oct. 6, 1833. Age 62 years, five months, five days. Jesus said: 'I am the resurrection and the life. He that believeth in Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live.'"

No Authentic Record

There is no definite nor authentic record of Grimm's death nor of his place of origin. All that is known is obtained from information, largely of a legendary character, handed down to persons now living in Richland Township who are descendants of the pioneers who ministered to Grimm during his illness and then provided for his burial.

Charles Wick, near whose home the grave is located, says that he recalls his mother's story of Grimm's illness and death.

Richland Township residents erected a wooden marker over the grave at the time of Grimm's burial and then sent word to his relatives. About two years later a brother arrived and had the stone enclosure placed around the grave and the marker erected.

For many years, as far as the records show, no word has ever been re-coined from any of Grimm's relatives and it is regarded as altogether likely that his descendants have no knowledge regarding his last resting place.

County Surveyor Leavens says that Grimm's grave is probably the only one in this section of Ohio located on the right-of-way of a public thoroughfare. It stands back just a few feet from the road surface.

PLAYS LEGISLATURE, RECITES TROUBLES

Answers Criticism on Insane Hospital Housing Conditions

Dec. 7.—There is a serious housing condition, not only in the Ohio State Hospital but in all our state hospitals for the insane and we are making every effort to combine the last session's Assemblies (of Ohio) of the Ohio State Hospital.

Charles J. E. Harper, state auditor, said today.

He is familiar with the facts and figures and we have been derelict in our treatment of our state hospitals. Harper stated in a letter addressed to the Ohio State Board of Insane Hospital Commissioners. Harper's letter was published in the newspapers and to a member of the board, criticizing Harper's delay in remedying the housing condition at the Ohio State Hospital.

Harper's budget for 1923-1924, which was $1,000,000 for buildings and grounds, and for state institutions, was approved by the Legislature. "In 1922-1923," continued Harper, "I asked for only $478,575 were approved. In our budget for the present year—1923-1924—we asked for $1,000,000 for building and improvements for our state institutions. The General Assembly appropriated $1,000,000, and for the first time

WILLIS GETS INTO PRESIDENTIAL RACE

dent's statement of his position will be to encourage other candidates to come into the open. They have been exceedingly coy about doing so thus far.

Vice President Dawes, everywhere considered a candidate, has announced "I am not a candidate"; Herbert Hoover has made no statement of his position, while his friends have been actively promoting his candidacy; Gov. Frank O. Lowden has merely stated "no man ever ran away from the presidency," and Charles E. Hughes has remained aloof and silent, awaiting developments. Only two men have actually announced themselves as candidates since last August—Senators Curtis of Kansas and Willis of Ohio.

Mr. Coolidge has now invited them to come into the open. He has virtually said, "I meant what I said, so go ahead." Certainly, Mr. Coolidge's closest friend could not be suspected of disloyalty should he proceed to whomp it up for some one else.

Most of the practical politicians now here for the session of Congress and the meeting of the Republican National committee believe that the 1928 race will settle down to a contest between Hoover, Hughes, and a Dawes-Lowden combination.

Charles D. Hilles, the Warwick of New York Republicans, has announced that New York will support the former secretary of state. Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon has announced he looks upon Hughes' nomination very favorably. New York and Pennsylvania between them have some 166 convention votes—a nice little block with which to start a candidate on the road to the nomination.

California for Hoover

Dawes has stated, and reiterated at every opportunity, that he favors the nomination of his bid friend, Lowden. This is taken by the politicians to mean that Dawes' delegates, in the early balloting at any rate, will go to Lowden. If the Lowden movement fails to get anywhere, it is natural to assume that this strength will then shift over to the volatile vice president.

Hoover will start with his native California as a nucleus. William H. Crocker, national committeeman from California, assured this when he said, as he left the White House: "Mr. Coolidge's statement speaks for itself. Herbert Hoover will be entered in the convention with California solidly behind him."

ANOTHER MARION WOMAN REJOICES

Sykodoner Gives Quick Relief From Rheumatism.

Crowds So Large Many Could Not Get Into the Door.

"I hardly know how to express my thanks for the wonderful relief I obtained, after the very first use of the Sykodoner. It is simply wonderful," said Mrs. Harry Messenger, a well-known Marion woman, living at 617 N. Main St. Her phone number is 4040.

"I suffered so terribly from inflammatory rheumatism in my left hand, and other parts of my body, that the slightest touch of the bed covering would cause me to yell for pain. This continued for four months; during which time I had seven doctors. Sleep was almost out of the question. I began to think there was no help for me, until when one fortunate day, recently, a friend suggested I try the Sykodoner, of which I had heard so much. I am sure glad I did so, for the relief was so sudden, that it surprised me. I now sleep well, and bed covering does not disturb me any longer. I want all to know of this remarkable work, for suffering humanity."

That the Sykodoner, an amazing invention, opens a real new way to health, is indicated by the large number of chronic sufferers who are now availing themselves of it. Several days the past week, the crowds were so large, that there was no longer any standing room in the Marion Sykodoner offices, and many people had to be turned away at the door.

No drugs, surgery, serum, faith, or rubbing necessary. It removes the poisons which cause disease, and your ailment disappears. Without health, what have you? Health, not gold, makes one wealthy.

The Sykodoner is the most pleasant, comfortable, effective treatment known to science today. The results obtained by its use, have been so very remarkable—right here in the city of Marion, as to be of almost belief. Let us tell you about it. Demonstration is free. Hours: 8 to 5 daily. Evenings and Sundays by appointment, only.

Do a kind act by sending this to an afflicted friend; and thereby receive their everlasting gratitude.

degree would threaten to interfere with the orderly processes of wise financing, to take steps in the interest of tax reduction that would necessitate either revolutionary curtailment of important federal projects and activities or compel a later upward revision of the rates, or both, is unthinkable," he said.

Cities Debt Reduction

Since the war the public debt had been reduced on June 30, 1927, by $8,984,794,716, at the annual saving in interest of approximately $320,000,000.

The president's views on other fiscal problems follow:

Refunding Taxes—"The budget contains an estimate of $135,000,000 for refunding of taxes for the full fiscal year 1929. 'I believe the time has come when our estimates of appropriations for refunding taxes illegally collected should be reflected in the budget.'"

Civilian Employees—"Taking all things into consideration, I feel that the government is liberal in the treatment of its employees."

THE GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES FOR 1929 AT $1897 ANNUALLY

National Defense—An estimate of approximately $645,000,000 is carried for national defense. This represents $48,000,000 for the increase of the navy, and provides for naval construction authorized by Congress with the exception of three submarines and 12 destroyers authorized in 1916, "for which no funds are desired at this time."

Navy craft under construction in 1929 will comprise two submarines and eight cruisers, of which two will be practically completed in 1929—the Pensacola and Salt Lake City. At the end of the year the navy will have 696 of the 1,000 planes authorized in the five-year program.

LIGHTED HIGHWAYS

Estimates for the army contemplate a regular enlisted personnel of 118,750 with 12,000 officers. Money is provided for the second-year increment in the five-year program looking toward 1,500 airplanes for the army air corps.

Air Service—"Our procurement of aircraft and accessories is from private industry. That is as it should be. We have gone further than this. Private industry is now operating by contract our entire postal air mail service. We now have 13 contract air mail routes in operation and seven others under contract with a view to early operation. This policy of co-operating with private industry is helping to bring America to the forefront in air navigation. More than 10,000 miles of lighted airways will be completed next year."

Federal Aid to States—"To relieve the states of their just obligations by resort to the federal treasury in the final result is harmful rather than helpful to the state, and unfair to the payers of national taxes. We should not only decidedly refuse to countenance

It was reported that the new cabinet would be constructed by former Premier Averescu, M. Maniu and M. Jorga, the latter two being leaders of the National Peasant group.

EVANGELISTIC MEET OF PASTORS CLOSES

Bishop McConnell of Pittsburgh, Speaks at Final Session

Epworth choir was heard in an especially arranged anthem.

Women's Rally Held

Approximately 300 Methodist women from Marion, Crawford, Wyandot, Morrow, Hardin, Logan, Union, and Delaware Counties were in attendance at the special women's evangelistic conference, yesterday afternoon at Epworth M. E. Church.

"The essence of Christian life lies in personal acquaintance with, personal knowledge of our Savior," Bishop William McConnell, D.D., L.L.D., of Washington, D. C., said in his address at this time. "I wonder if you know the Methodist Church, the Aid Society, the Missionary Society better than you know Christ?" he continued. "I marvel at the activities of the women of the church, have never seen a more devoted, ambitious lot of people but often wonder if these same activities might not be allowed to crowd out a personal relationship with God?"

"There are a number of ways of thinking about religion, in the light of one's beliefs, as a privilege or opportunity for expressing devotion, in the light of one's religious duties, kindness, fairness, generosity and friendliness, and also of religion as a friendship with Christ."

Ought to be Better

"Have you thought of yourself as a friend, possible friend of Christ, intimate that you might introduce another to Him? People are not won to Christ because of success in a theological argument but because of persistence, kindness, gentleness, personal testimony of Christ, by the beauty of the testimony, delivered, the interest shown. You will find your friends receptive, hungry, even indeed eager for the spiritual reality, for that deepest thing which belongs to human life. This meeting, a careful analysis of the state of the church, shows that the church is as good as it ever was, possibly better, but also that it is not as good as it ought to be, that churchmen are not living up to the privilege of helping God offered us. We have become conventional, reached a dead-level of uniformity, a situation that makes the bringing of souls to Christ even more opportune."

Speaks on "Faith"

Bishop Francis McConnell, L. L. D., of Pittsburgh gave an inspiring address on "Faith" in which he declared as essential to the kingdom of God, belief in truth, confidence in human beings, after the manner in which Christ trusted in His disciples, faith in Him and in His plan.

"Faith is not a doctrine," Bishop McConnell said. "The attitude of faith is rather that of the sower of the seed, an easy confidence, trust in the Lord. The faith of God will work itself out for redemption of the people of the community," he said in closing.

Bishop Theodore L. Henderson, D. D., L. L. D., of Cincinnati, bishop of the Cincinnati area, presided and gave a short talk in which he said that the purpose of the meeting is not to get you to do more missionary work but to renew your covenant with Jesus Christ."

BAN SPICY MEMOIRS

Courts Uphold Action of Customs Collector in Banning Volumes

Washington, Dec. 7.—Official sanction by the courts of the action of the U. S. Customs Bureau in assuming the duty of general censor of the imported literary diet of the American people has been given, the Department of Justice announced today.

The action of the Collector of Customs at Cleveland in denying admission to a shipment of 10 volumes of the spicy "Memoirs of Casanova," has been upheld by the Customs Court at New York.

Casanova was a fifteenth century Venetian, with a roving disposition and a way with the ladies. In his declining years, he chronicled some of his more interesting affairs.

Cleveland, Dec. 7.—Police today were conducting a search for Charles Holak, 19, employee of the Brown Brothers Furniture Co. here, who disappeared yesterday while enroute from the furniture company offices to a bank with $500 in cash and $700 in checks.

Friends of Holak, who was a trusted messenger of the furniture company, and had often carried large sums of money, were inclined to believe the youth had been abducted and robbed.

ENGINEER OUTLINES PLANS FOR STREET

W. Center Improvement To Be Outstanding Constructive Step, Cathers Reveals

ter or early next spring and it is expected that the entire summer will be required to complete it.

To Build Side at Time

Preliminary plans call for the construction of one half of the street, probably the north side, at one time, similar to the arrangement used in resurfacing that section of W. Center lying between the railroads and Davidson in front of the Marion Steam Shovel Co. plant. Under this plan the street will be open to travel during the construction period.

Thirty catch basins will be installed along the improved street. Six of these will be double capacity to take care of intersections and spots where the volume of surface is exceptionally large during heavy rains.

The new storm water sewer will not be laid in the middle of the improved street but will be constructed in a trench along the north side probably in the space between the sidewalk and the curbing. City Engineer Cathers said: "Both will be laid sufficiently deep to provide adequate drainage."

Without Storm Sewer

At present W. Center is without a storm water sewer from Leader-st to Charles-st. Engineer Cathers said: "During heavy rains the only drainage surface water has been provided by a 10-inch cellar drain. Some water has been carried away in an eight-inch sanitary sewer due to misconnections."

According to the city engineer's preliminary plans surface water will be carried away in a tapering trunkline storm water sewer. This sewer will be laid deep enough to provide a relief connection with the present 10-inch cellar drain.

The new sewer, Engineer Cathers said, probably will be 33 inches in diameter from Leader-st to Garden-st. From Garden-st to Campbell-st. it will be 27 inches, where a 20 inch branch will be tapped in from Campbell-st. Running into this branch will be a surface drain for Mill-st. From Campbell-st. east on Center to Oak-st. the sewer will be either 22 or 24 inches in diameter.

To Lay Small Sewers

The storm water sewer will be laid over the proposed 12 and 15-inch sanitary sewer, which will extend from Oak-st. west to Blaine-st. where it will empty into the new 30-inch sanitary trunkline sewer laid several years ago.

Smaller sewers connecting with the main lines will be constructed from the railroads to Leader-st. Water in three two lines will flow west to Leader.

Both of the main storm water and sanitary sewers to be constructed in Center-st will have dead ends at Oak-st. and will be laid deep enough to provide extensions as far east as Baker-st. From Baker-st. the fall is in the opposite direction.

Will Tap East Trunklines

When E. Center-st is improved in all probability sewers from Baker-st. east will be tapped into the proposed East Side trunklines, Engineer Cathers pointed out.

In all probability all sewer taps from the north side of the street will be connected into the new sewers. All but a few from the south also will be changed.

To provide adequate drainage for business houses on the south side of the street it is proposed to construct relief connections between the old lines and the new. These will be constructed at a pitch sufficient to afford adequate relief. All taps will be nine feet below the sidewalks, Cathers said.

DEJECTED, SUICIDES

Chicago Invalid Fears He'll Blight Christmas Celebration

Chicago, Dec. 7.—Gustave P. Anderson, 50, an invalid for five years, overheard his wife tell the children they would not do this Christmas because he was sick. The family found him dead upon their return from a store where they had gone to buy his present.

CLAIMS YOUNG WIFE INDUCED TO LEAVE

Columbus Man Causes Arrest of Richland County Resident; Inquiry Made

Mansfield, Dec. 7.—An unusual marital tangle, in which a husband claims that his 18-year-old wife was induced, with the consent of her father, to leave her home in Columbus to live with a middle aged farmer near here, was being investigated by county authorities today.

James Dorah, 30, the husband, arrived here this morning after causing the arrest last night of a man registered as Jacob Brings in Columbus. According to Dorah, Brings owns land adjoining a farm occupied by Elmer Quinn of near Ganges.

Quinn asked the Columbus man to get him a housekeeper, several weeks ago, according to Dorah. Brings approached Mrs. Lillian Dorah, 18, and told her that her husband was too old for her, according to the husband.

Joe Harrison, the wife's father, who lives at her home in Columbus, also advised her to leave, Dorah says. Brings is alleged to have told her that she could obtain a divorce for about $1,700 and that she would be much happier living with the farmer, Quinn.

As a result Dorah declared his wife disappeared last Friday. Saturday, he says, he learned that she and Quinn were in Mansfield where Quinn was buying clothes for her. Sheriff Ralph Schlad accompanied Dorah to the Quinn farm today to obtain further information concerning the affair. Dorah has been married once before. He married his present wife two years ago.

REBUS BREAKS DOWN, SOBS IN COURTROOM

Hears Testimony That Slain Wife Hired Man To Assassinate Him

Courthouse, Cincinnati, Dec. 7.—George Remus broke down and sobbed in the courtroom at his trial for murder today when Harry Truesdale of Hamilton, Ohio, testified Mrs. Lucretia Holmes Remus hired him to assassinate Remus.

The 24-year-old daughter, Ronola Remus, at the defendant's side in the prisoner's dock, tried to pacify him and then she, too, collapsed, and was assisted from the courtroom in a hysterical condition.

Her shrieks resounded through the corridors and it was several minutes before she could control herself.

Daily Proverb: "What reason could not avoid has often been cured by delay."

Any way, "Uncle Henry" Ford got a lot of Detroit workmen out of the dumps before Christmas.

Any way we look at it, Bobby Jones' intention, that poor golf scores result from a failure, to use brains, is a gratuitous insult to some of our good friends, and we resent it.

A writer says that "It takes a good deal to amuse a graduate of Harvard college." Of course, it's always possible that he is prejudiced against the Cambridge university.

A Buffalo paper says Sir Thomas Lipton still longs for the cup. Huh! That's nothing. There are hundreds of thousands of men over here with a longing like that.

"The easiest way out," remarks Ellhu Root, "is no way out at all, but merely leads into more difficulties." The great trouble with the world in this regard is that so very, very few of the people of the earth have the mental endowment of Ellhu Root necessary to appreciation of the fact.

Taxes amounting to $50,917,490 were collected in New York City, one day last week. Some city that! Why, some governments do not collect that amount in a year.

Speaking of doubt concerning the miracles, Irving T. Bush puts this poser: "What would we say of the radio if it did not have it—and read of it in the Bible?" Asking those who doubt questions like that is mighty near akin to cruelty to animals.

There's nothing surprising about the announcement that more money was expended in the United States for doll carriages than baby. By the time the babies reach the doll-carriage stage their parents have had more experience in installment buying.

Thomas A. Edison is displaying samples of rubber made from dandelions. Until comparatively recent years mankind never appreciated to what extent the lowly dandelion could be used to add to the battling verage of the joy of living.

One day recently, owing to the large retirement of liberty bonds, a Washington wire tells us, Uncle Sam had a cash balance of a mere $12,377,446 on hand. Why, we've often had a lot less than that on hand and yet felt comparatively well off.

The World Making Progress.

More than 400 social disease symptoms have been identified, and classified, it is announced by the social service department of the Presbyterian hospital in New York City. The importance of this achievement may be understood from the explanation of Miss Gordon Hamilton, under whose direction the work was done, who says that, because the symptoms thus classified all give clues to the patient's condition, they will be recognized by the medical scientists of that particular medical center in the treatment of patients.

Now we have always thought that the fellow who continually nagged his wife was something of a brute. It's awful to learn that he has been misjudging the poor devil. He's merely a sick man. We have been assuming that the bootlegger was just a low-down criminal. All a mistake. He also is merely a sick man. And the cynic. We have long looked upon the cynic as something in the order of a nut. And now, at this late date, we find that he is merely the victim of disease.

Well, we have to live to learn, so we took time to note that laziness, day-dreaming, possessing a hard-luck complex or an inferiority complex and the possession of an egocentric personality also were evidences of disease listed among the social 400.

"Take cynicism," explains Miss Hamilton in the announcement. "When the social worker begins to ask: 'Why is this patient so cynical?' she finds more often than not some social maladjustment is at the bottom of it. Narcissism is just as much a symptom. A person with diabetes, for instance, with his own morbid concentration upon his own appetite is narcissistic."

Miss Hamilton, in the new catalogue compiled by her department, has put these modern social symptoms under the heading, "Symptomatic Behavior Attitudes or Reaction Modes," and has divided the list into two parts, one of which is classified as "Doliquency," and the other "Unconstructive Personality Traits." Bootlegging, perjury, non-support and gambling are among the delinquency classifications, and rebelliousness, resignation, dependence, hyper-independence, boasting and discouragement are called "unconstructive personality traits."

"The important part of new medical social terminology is that now for the first time in the history of social service all these traits are actually named," said Miss Hamilton. "Now the social service worker knows what she is treating."

And right in the face of an announcement like this, some people will keep right on claiming the world isn't making progress.

Passing of Dearborn Independent.

The Dearborn Independent, Henry Ford's so-called "Chronicle of the Neglected Truth," will suspend publication the last week of the present month, after an existence of something like eight years under his ownership. It is understood that Mr. Ford had a number of advantageous financial offers for its purchase, but it is manifest that he preferred to close it up and mark its account of his books rather than sell it and have it trade on his one-time ownership and be run in a way other than that in which it has been run, which would be impossible under ordinary conditions, for without advertising patronage it could be run only as the whim, the hobby, of some man or body of men of wealth.

At one time the Dearborn Independent is said to have had a circulation of 700,000, but its present circulation is unquestionably far less than that, as it is known that Mr. Ford, shortly after the conclusion of the Aaron Sapiro $1,000,000 damages suit, which was settled out of court by apologies made by Ford to Sapiro and the people of the latter's race, issued an order that no new subscriptions be taken or old ones renewed when they expired.

There was a time when not much in the way of praise could have been said for the Dearborn Independent, a time when it lacked much of merit. Its policy for a number of years was all wrong, being far away from good magazine and business ethics alike. Its indictment of a whole race on only flimsy charges against individuals of that race—charges, at that, which could not be substantiated—was the height of stupidity.

But for something like a year before Mr. Ford made his very manly apology—evidently from the time he began to give his personal attention to the charges his magazine had made and was making, there was a marked change in his publication. It offered articles of a class and turn from that time on alike interesting, entertaining and enlightening. Free from the venom of attacks upon the Hebrews, it became a very readable magazine, one worthy a place in any home.

We do not know just why Mr. Ford has decided to discontinue publication, but our guess is that his magazine lost all appeal to him when, convinced that it had not been telling the truth, he was forced to drop the title, "Chronicle of the Neglected Truth."

To stand behind something lacking in dependability would be to a man like Henry Ford unthinkable.

A Washington court sentenced a motorist to thirteen months in jail for repeated reckless driving. If sentences such as this become epidemic, there may yet be a chance for us true aristocrats of the land.

Foreign loans aggregating $1,494,000,000 were made in the United States during the present year. After all, old Shylock is not so unkind in his treatment of "dear old Europe" as the internationalists would have us believe.

The war correspondents being sent over here by the London paper to report the Chicago gang war should be warned of the risk they are taking, especially so since their experience hitherto has been wholly in conflicts governed by the rules of civilized warfare.

"California Stamp," the championship piece at the Chicago International Lifeslock exposition, brought only $2.35 a pound, $1.16 below the exhibition record price. Are we to take this to indicate a drop in the cost of living?

The radio and the phonograph have taught the children of Japan to sing old-time American melodies such as "My Old Kentucky Home," "Swanee River," "Home Sweet Home" and "Marching Through Georgia," but jazz has no appeal for them. Manifestly, the musical taste of the children of Nippon has not been blunted.

Customs officials are now searching people returning from Canada for hip-pocket flasks. The assumed rights of the "personal liberty" crowd are daily being made more circumscribed by the "mintons of the law."

One year's quasi-private management of the Belgium railroads, post-office, telephone and telegraph services has proved so much more successful than government management that all of them are to be turned over entirely to private control. What Belgium seeks is good service at the lowest cost consistent with good service and not the building up of a political machine.

A French writer defends the use of cosmetics for men, holding that's the only way in which many men can get their noses in sympathy with the color schemes of their faces. As a matter of fact, we have seen some noses over here the color of which might be toned down a bit to good effect.

The Florentine choir, now in Los Angeles on its first tour of the United States, has delivered an ultimatum to its leader to the effect that it must be served wine of good quality at meal time or it will return home. Here's where, it seems to us, it might be well for some one to suggest to the choir that it chase right back to Italy. We have too many people of our own showing scorn for our laws without letting foreigners ride over them.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Into the formal garden of my thinking,
I bid them come, the people whom I know.
A private hedge of courtesy surrounds it,
Cut open here and there, exactly so.
White, entering, they walk by reason's path-ways.
Admiring facts in an isosceles bed,
And plaudits that fill a semicircle.
And truths from sheets plucked out of books
I've read.
I own more land that stands in back of this land—
I've piled my knowledge round it, like a wall—
A place of thorny hopes and nettled fancies,
Dead dreams, illusions, gone to seed and tall.
That is the place I hoped to grow my garden,
But droughts of doubt came there, there
I've read.
Winds of experience, yet it is there, dear,
I take my pen and paper to write you!

THAT UNCOMFORTABLE FEELING.

Giving the Brain a Chance.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Preciding over the thoughts, the movements and the welfare of man is that crowning gift of the Creator, the human brain.

Without the brain, were life possible, it would be no more than what may be called the "life" of a machine, or the "life" of a mechanical toy. Voluntary acts would be impossible.

Like all the rest of our organs the brain performs its functions quietly, faithfully and without our conscious knowledge. That is the way every organ should operate.

Unfortunately, the brain may become disturbed. Then it makes its troubles felt in unpleasant ways. What are some of the symptoms of brain irritation?

There are a lot of them: Headache, sense of fullness in the head, roaring in the ears, dizziness, sickness at the stomach and vomiting, sensitiveness to light, tenderness of the scalp, discomfort in the head when walking or otherwise jarring the body. Insolubility to sleep, irritable temper, stiffness of the neck, delirium.

Of course you may have one or more of these symptoms and yet have a perfectly normal brain. You may have a disturbed brain, with one or more of these symptoms and yet have nothing serious to worry over.

But where there are headache, restlessness, sleeplessness, bad dreams, mental confusion or dullness, particularly with stupor or delirium, it is time to find out what is wrong. If there should be slow pulse, disturbed breathing and partial paralysis of some part of the body, it may be set down as pretty certain that the brain is out of order.

Some of the pronounced signs of brain disturbance are loss of speech or inability to speak certain words. There may be inability to name objects or to recall the names of intimate friends.

Brain trouble, like many other ailments, may be "functional" or "organic." That is, there may be no actual disease of the brain, but for some reason or other the brain won't function as it should. An organic trouble is one where there is actual disease or physical disturbance of the brain or some part of it.

The surest way to avoid brain trouble is to live right. In the first place, that organ must be well nourished. It can not be unless there is a regular supply of the right sorts of food.

We are inclined to think of food as something to keep the muscles and flesh in good condition. But it must do much more than that. It must supply nourishment to the bones, the heart, the lungs, the liver and all the rest of the organs and structures of the body. Particularly it must keep the brain in perfect condition.

There must be plenty of rest and sleep to give the brain a chance to recuperate. Exercise is needed to stimulate the heart and blood vessels. The blood must be sent in forceful streams to cleanse and purify the brain cells. The eliminative organs must carry away the poisons to avoid poisoning of the sensitive tissues of the brain.

By right living, right eating and practicing the ordinary rules of hygiene, the brain will share good health and vigor, along with all the rest of the body.

B. for five years, and the nervous condition tends to aggravate my condition in general. My heart palpitates. Would the violet ray treatment be helpful?

A.—If you have lots of fresh air and sunshine, careful, nourishing diet, proper rest and sleep, avoidance of worry and anxiety and your system is kept clear your nerves should benefit and your condition in general improve. Why not have your doctor advise the further treatment you need?

H. M. Q.—My son has pimples—what would you suggest to clear them up?

A.—If his diet is suitable, eliminating sweets and keeping the system clear, those pimples should disappear. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.—Copyright, 1927.

Editorial Comment.

THE EARTH IS TWENTY SECONDS SLOW.

On November 20 a small, black spot marched across the face of the sun and convicted the earth of being late once more. The occasion was what astronomers call a transit of the planet, Mercury, or the passage of this planet directly between us and the sun, so that it appears as a tiny black speck against the sun's brightness. Easily distinguishable from the sunspots really on the sun by the rapidity with which it seems to move, this small, black spot supplies a valuable opportunity for retiming the motions of the solar system.

Calculations, made long in advance, had predicted the exact instant of last month's transit in accordance with what are believed to be the laws of planetary motion. The event was invisible in this hemisphere, but European astronomers were on the watch. To their surprise the tiny speck of black showed up on the edge of the sun about twenty seconds sooner than it was expected. As in the case of the eclipse of the sun visible in New York three years ago, the celestial rendezvous was not kept with the exactness which we expect of our heavenly companions.

Until the observations made of the recent transit have been recomputed and subjected to all the complicated checks and counter-checks which scientific men know that they must use to keep from falling into error, it will not be known definitely why Mercury was twenty seconds too soon. It appears probable, however, that it was not Mercury's fault, but ours. The earth is turning, it appears, a trifle slower than it once did. The Mercurial express train was on time, but our watch was slow.

This is suggested by several other observations. Professor E. W. Brown, of Yale, who studied the results of the solar eclipse of 1925, came to the conclusion that that missed appointment also was due to a slight variation in the earth's rotation. Dr. R. T. A. Innes, of South Africa, believes that he has traced a periodic swing in the earth's speed, slower in some decades, faster in others. Like a watch that loses in summer and gains in winter, our fundamental clock of the earth's rotation seems to be a little variable. No one needs readjust his suburban schedule on this account, for the error is certainly not more than a few seconds a century, but it has given astronomers and geologists something to think about, and they will make the most of their opportunity.—New York Herald.

SOMETIMES TOO MUCH EFFICIENCY.

With characteristic French politeness, Andre Maurois found nothing to criticize in America except in a discreet, jesting way. To dull American ears it seems a double compliment that he should complain of nothing except our telephones, and that because they "work." It sounds so like the reputed artificial gallantry of the Frenchman to contrast the Paris phone, which is undoubtedly slow and uncertain, with the rapid accuracy of the American system.

Examining behind his charming little joke, one may find something of a gibe in it. So delightful a writer visiting a part of his public that admires him greatly was certain to be welcomed exuberantly. He must have been swamped with more invitations than he could possibly have accepted. If his refusals were thrown back at him by telephone, with further urging, and if instant would-be hosts—and hostesses—bombaraded him with invitations with that dreadfully efficient instrument, he may well have wished himself back with his native telephone.

The swift precision of our system has made possible other abuses. Busy executives find it convenient to have a secretary get one on the wire. The equally busy gentleman who is called may be greatly annoyed to hang on for five minutes while the first one concludes some business which he began when he ordered the call to be made. He probably does not think of the rudeness of his act, but only of what a great time-enter the telephone is for him.—New York Times.

Dinner Stories.

"What's the matter with your anger, Slack?" inquired an acquaintance. "It looks like you'd broke the end off."

"Nepel! Wore it off of pinning out the way to motor tourists," answered Constable Sam T. Slackputter, of Petunula.

"What makes that fellow move his right hand whenever one of the football players shouts 'Down'?"

"Why, he runs the elevator in an office building."

"Are you an idealist?"

"I am," replied Senator Sorghum. "I am compelled to be. So many impractical suggestions are urged upon me by constituents that I have to offer some kind of a vague excuse for seeming a trifle foolish."

Two actors who were exceedingly jealous of each other met in a hostelry much favored by "the profession." They exchanged rigid nods.

"How are you getting along?" asked one presently.

"Pretty well," replied the other. "Still keeping alive."

The first man eyed his rival steadily for a second and then said casually:

"What's your motive?"

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

It is sometimes said that the church has failed or that it is falling now. So many things prosper that are contrary to the teachings and purposes of the church, and so many people of the seeming importance take no interest in the church action. Some are thoughtless, but to conclude that the church is playing a futile part in this world of affairs. It is, indeed, a thoughtless conclusion. The church, itself a storehouse of ideals, is everywhere apparent in the lives and institutions of the people. Every hospital, every Y. M. C. A. building, every orphan asylum, every chapter of the Red Cross is but the church in action—the church in the fields of men. Every institution designed to minister to the deeper needs of the people, every agency for making conditions under which we live better than they are, draws its sustenance from the church. Such institutions and such movements represent the ideals of the church turned into a stream of action.

Any one who says the church has failed simply does not know life.

An old proverb says to be slow in choosing, but slower in changing. President Coolidge was slow in choosing, but he is equally slow in changing his choice.

One may love those dear to him and yet hate their faults. It is the proper attitude toward all—neighbors, friends or enemies. It is possible to think a great deal of another and yet be quite conscious of his faults. We ought not to hate anybody but it is proper to hate some things that people do. It is not necessary to fight evil doors in order to fight evil. Men with love in their hearts, smile on their faces, and an abundance of goodwill make the best fighters.

There is no greater legacy we can leave than a well-educated family. There are thousands of boys and girls in school all over this country whose presence there means hard and heavy sacrifice on the part of their parents. It is not easy to get even a little money to send to John or Mary in college. But it is a great investment. Fathers and mothers who can bear the sacrifice will find it brings peace and satisfaction in the years to come. It is the supreme gift they can make their children—the gift of giving them a real start in life.

And when school days are over and young people are grown and they show no sense of appreciation of the sacrifice that has been made for them and no gratitude to their parents, then they are eternally "no good," no matter what jobs they are capable of holding.

Francois Boieldieu—Composer.

BY COZETTE DOUGLASS.

The humble walks of life seem ever destined to lead their children in the paths of fame and glory. Most of the world's genius springs from the dust of the peasant and it would seem that Dame Fortune ever tries to recompense her less fortunate children by dowering them with gifts far above the material.

Thus it was with Francois Adrien Boieldieu. His father was the secretary to an archbishop and his mother a milliner. He was born in Rouen on December 16, 1775, and early in life was apprenticed to an intemperate, brutal organist. When he was twelve years old, the sensitive boy rebelled against the harsh treatment, and ran away, walking to Paris. After some difficulty he was found and brought back. There is no record of his receiving any other teaching than that of Broche, the organist.

When he was eighteen he produced two operas, which were successfully produced in Rouen. His father was the librettist. He determined to seek greater fame in Paris, and again walked to Paris. His reception there was not so discouraging, and he was forced to earn a precarious living as a piano tuner. Through his employer, Brad, he met Cherubini and Garat, the tenor, who liking Francois' songs, sang them at his concerts, and thereby gained for him public recognition.

It is probable that Boieldieu's knowledge of counterpoint was gained from Cherubini, for after a silence of three years, during which time he studied faithfully, he produced "Ma Tante Aurore" which proved successful.

In 1802 he married Clotilde Mafouroy, a ballet dancer, a union which proved most unhappy. The result of this was that Boieldieu went to Russia in 1803, where he stayed for eight years. In 1811 he returned to Paris and in 1812 his opera "Jean de Paris" was produced with received with wildest enthusiasm. However, it was not until 1825 that he achieved his greatest success, with the opera "La Dame Blanche," which is still generally accepted as his masterpiece. On the death of his first wife in 1827, he married Mile. Phillips, a singer, whose devotion and care consoled his later years.

On his retirement from the Conservatoire, where he had been professor of composition, he was pensioned by the government, which, however, was revoked in 1830. However, Thiers, minister of Louis Philippe granted him an annuity of 6,000 francs. Suffering from pulmonary disease, he went to Pisa in search of the health which he never regained. He died at this country home in Jersey on October 8, 1834.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. MCINTYRE.

New York, Dec. 7.—Most professional humorists appear so freighted with a sense of humor that they seem to be taking for a broad gargoyle. And a past of Ring Lardner's work is appropriately labeled: "A gentleman never to cry."

Bugs Baer wanders about the cafes and entertainment temples with the glum, funereal, melancholy of a tragedian. When George Adams calls, you somehow expect him to be followed by assistants carrying emblazoned flags. Equally well known wits are sour-visaged and pessimistic.

The professional humorist is usually a glum talker among intimates, but in public he is a conversational dud. You rather feel he would be a good idea to cheer him up or he would break up the party in an unrestrained sobbing.

The truth is, I believe, the droll comedy acquires a self-conscious strain. They seem to feel strangers eye them with the thought, "Be funny—we dare you." And yet strangers do. An old saw reads, "Only a fool seeks constant laughter."

If that is not accurately quoted correct me I love mail. Every editor has observed the humorous writer soon tires of the comic game. He wants to become serious and it requires much editorial cajoling to keep him in a funny groove.

Will Rogers, Irvin Cobb and Robert Benchley are skillful after-dinner speakers. Also a few other humorists. But the majority are unable to rise to the occasion. They flounder around in a pathetic bewilderment to mirthful groans.

Professional humorists are the most highly paid in the writing business. Almost every publication seeks the man or woman who can make their readers giggle. And are willing to pay top price for such efforts. And as a side line these days, the humorist may enjoy a new brand of cigarette.

On the other hand there are innumerable wits who can convulse an audience with their lively chatter and are complete flops when it comes to putting their satire on paper. One common way recently signed for a series of six articles for a weekly magazine at $1,000 per article. He wrote three which never passed print. And quit.

At one of these celebrity nights in a supper club the guest of honor arrived lighted up like a torch. After slumping into his chair he fell into a deep sleep, out of which the embarrassed hostess could not arouse him. "He'll be all right," she finally said, brightly. "He had a tough day at the office."

One agency employs 500 private patrolmen and another 500 for emergencies. Most private patrolmen work in exclusive residential areas, where their chief duties are assisting teeming gentlemen to their doors and holding the flashlight for them to find the keyhole. Yet statistics show their mere presence diminishes crime in their territory.

Fifth avenue was regaled this fall by the battle of pigeons. When a synagogue was torn down hundreds of pigeons nesting in the eaves found themselves homeless. They decided to move en masse to the aristocratic eaves of the public library at Forty-second street. They did—and the battle followed. The synagogue pigeons retreated temporarily, but every day for a week went back and the battle was renewed. Finally, in fury, they departed, and were seen no more, and the library pigeons cooed their triumph. I must thought pigeons would quit that way.

Britishers seem to have won top mail. The heart palpitations were cuff-shooters from perfidious old Albion.

At one of those musical revues where a gorgeously arrayed play appears before the curtain announcing: "I am Music," a voice from the gallery piped: "Yeah!" It doesn't read funny, but it was.—Copyright, 1927.

Miss Stella McIntire and Mr. Howard Christler were married by Rev. D. H. Bailey. Henry Clay Godman, of Columbus, formerly of Marion, died at his winter home at Daytona, Florida.

-If a gentleman could swear!

Three days now, and the young chief still absent from his band out there in the lot. Three killing days of listening to his little sister who tells to him (not without scorn) as "mama's little monkey." Three days of wearing a towel about the neck destined for the collar of a conqueror... if only a gentleman could swear!
Never neglect a sore throat.
Look upon it as a warning of an oncoming cold, or worse, and take definite steps to check it.
At the first sign of throat irritation, rinse the mouth and gargle with Listerine full strength. Do it several times a day. Many a cold and sore throat that this simple precaution has nipped in the bud.

The New Tonal Beauties of Fada Harmonized Reception Amaze, unlike, the musical critic, and the radio technician. They, above all others, appreciate Fada's perfect reproduction throughout the whole range of the musical and vocal scale. They revel in the pure fundamental notes, delicate harmonies or over-tones, which are the chief charm of fine music. They delight in listening to Fada "carry on" through even such hazards as A above soprano high C, without quivering or distortion.

This new era of radio reaction is effected by Fada Harmonized Reception. Any Fada dealer will be glad to demonstrate the marvel of Harmonized Reception. But remember that only the Fada receiver—minutely harmonized with the Fada speaker—gives you real Harmonized Reception.

Every day in the month!

Business girls who let menstrual periods interfere with duty have not learned of Midol. This remarkable preparation neither hinders nor hastens the natural process of menstruation, but it does stop the pain. Midol is not a narcotic. It is just as safe as it is direct and certain. It is only common sense to use it. You have probably tried other things for menstrual pain, but so had the many thousands of women who today bless Midol. It brings complete ease in five to seven minutes. Or prevents pain from starting, it takes in time. Beyer's Midol is the true little aluminum case of Midol to tuck in your purse, for fifty cents!—Adm.

ON THE Streets of Marion WITH THE STAR STAFF

DURING the recent period of unusual dampness in this locality, right at a time when it was raining the proverbial pitchforks and various other types of implements, an interesting and rather spirited confab took place in the lobby of the Marion Steam Shovel Co. The dispute was between two traveling salesmen, both residents of California, while they were waiting for appointments with officials of the local company. The weather, naturally, was the chief topic of conversation generally. Practically all making comments agreed that never within their time had they seen as much water fall over such an extended period at this particular season of the year. "Nothing like California," one of the salesmen from the western state declared with all the pride that might be expected of any true and loyal Californian. "In all the 15 years I've been there, I've never seen it rain more than three days in succession."

He was a typical booster for the old home state, the kind that Ohio needs. Then Comes Surprise

"Then came the surprise. It disclosed that there is in existence a California resident who actually admits that his state is not perfect."

"You must be from some part of California that I've never visited," the other salesman said. "I'm not stretching it a bit in saying that I have seen a steady rainfall there lasting six weeks. Not as hard as it's raining out here now, but rain, just the same. And brother, I have lived in California just 16 years, one year longer than you."

Then followed an exchange of information in which it was revealed that both men lived in the same section of California, not more than 50 miles apart.

The controversy, it was obvious, was one which could not be decided satisfactorily one way or the other. No one else in the group had ever been in California and there was nothing but the words and veracity of the two men from the far west to be taken as testimony.

Consequently, the dispute ended in silence that spoke louder than words. None of the several Ohioans who heard the impromptu debate dared to voice their opinions for fear that something more lively than a verbal battle might ensue.

ONE Marion men's conscience is clear but the Columbus Municipal Court claims that the mysterious individual who mailed five and 10-cent postage stamps totaling $6.50 together with two Columbus police department traffic tags at the Marion postoffice still owes the court $1.50.

This unusual case came to light when Harry H. Lamon, clerk of the Columbus court, made known the contents of an envelope postmarked Marion. The sender gave no name or hint of occupation.

The tags were issued on successive days for overtime and double parking. Lamon pointed out that the amount enclosed should have been $8, as a first and second offense were involved.

Lamon also expressed the belief that should the Marion man learn of the shortage he would send an additional $1.50 in stamps.

FASHIONS in covers for automobile tires—if style really takes in that much territory—are not affected by the season.

This is apparent from the large number of machines seen on the streets of Marion now with the apertures at the rear gaily decorated with covers advertising

Ritzzy Rosey is party-bound. In her pocket she has concealed a wee container of concentrated perfume. She is very wise because she knows that before she arrives home her fur-trimmed wrap will be saturated with smoke. Crystal Lake Park, the popular amusement center located north of the city.

Hundreds of these covers were distributed by the park management during the last spring and summer for the purpose of letting the public here and in surrounding communities know that Crystal Lake is an ideal place to obtain successes from the blistering heat of the mid-year season.

The outstanding feature of the cover design is an artistic portrayal of the young woman of dazzling good looks, especially so because of the brevity of her one-piece bathing suit.

There's No Law A refreshing and cooling picture at a time when everybody is in a somewhat exhausted state from the heat, and which threatens to dislodge their false collars are hanging limp over sagging necks.

But at this season of the year, the bathing beauty scene tends to get on the nerves of a shivering populace worried over whether the cool supply is going to hold out for the rest of the winter.

There's no law against keeping the covers with their summer resort scene on display throughout the winter, so the chances are many will still be in evidence when the mercury gets down around zero and thin-blooded chattering with a violence.

These unreasonable tire covers are about in the same category as pictures of candidates for office which remain on telephone posts and sides of buildings.

Some months after many of the handsomeness so photographed are rated among the also-rans.

FUND FIGHT OPENED BY BIG NAVY BLOC

Would Elevate 14 and 16-inch Guns on American Battleships

Washington, Dec. 7.—The congressional "big navy" bloc today opened a fight for funds to elevate the big 14 and 16-inch guns on American battleships.

battleships to meet the range of British and Japanese men-of-war.

Stubborn opposition was expected, with opponents declaring that the step would violate the spirit of the Washington naval limitation treaty and bring international complications, and another group declaring that money spent on battleships in a firing age is wasted.

The legislative battle was scheduled to break during consideration of the first deficiency bill, made the major business of the House today and tomorrow.

Despite the fact that Congress last year authorized modernization of the battleships Nevada and Oklahoma, including gun elevation, the House Appropriation Committee omitted the $970,000 necessary to elevate guns. Instead it referred the question to Congress. The total modernization program will cost $15,150,000.

Congress authorized elevation of guns on all battleships in 1923 but repealed its action in 1924. The British government, it was said, registered formal protests that elevation program would violate the freshly signed arms treaty.

300 PYTHIANS AT MEETING IN LA RUE

Hear Rev. Frederick S. Atwood, of Minneapolis, Supreme Lodge Prelate

Approximately 300 persons, including representatives of all Pythian lodges in Marion County, attended a county "booster" meeting held in LaRue, last night, and heard an address by Rev. Frederick S. Atwood of Minneapolis, prelate of the supreme lodge, Knights of Pythias.

The address, pronounced as one of the best ever delivered at a Pythian gathering in the county, was on the subject, "Am I My Brother's Keeper?"

In his talk, which lasted nearly an hour, Reverend Atwood compared the mission of the church with that of fraternal organizations. The basic principle of religion as exemplified in the church, is the relation of father to son, while fraternalism, such as the order of Knights of Pythias, exemplify primarily the principle of brotherhood.

Fulfill Admonition
The Knights of Pythias and other fraternalities, he pointed out, are actually fulfilling the scriptural provision which designates man as his brother's keeper. This mission is being performed, he said, by members of the fraternalities living up to pledges of brotherhood.

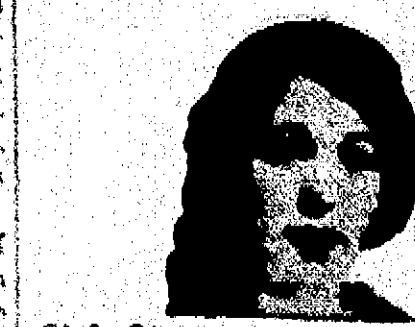

Reverend Atwood, known as the "blind orator of Pythianism," having lost his sight a number of years ago, held the closest attention of his audience with his eloquence and logic.

Following the meeting, tentative plans were discussed for having him visit Marion in January to deliver a Sunday morning sermon at one of the local churches and address a Pythian gathering in the afternoon.

O'Dowd Presides
Last night's meeting, held in the hall of Walter Scott Lodge, No. 214, at LaRue, was planned in connection with a nationwide campaign which is being carried on in behalf of Pythianism. In Ohio the campaign is being conducted under direction of Charles E. Root of Newark, grand chancellor, who has sounded the slogan, "Rub Elbows," signifying his wish that a closer fraternity be established among members of the order in the state.

H. H. O'Dowd of Marion, district Pythian deputy, presided at the meeting and introduced Reverend Atwood to the audience. Other features of the program included selections by a LaRue school orchestra, a LaRue Pythian Sisters' quartet and readings and songs by several children from the schools.

BUSINESS IS NEAR NORMAL, SAYS MELLON

Secretary of Treasury Gives Report on Conditions to Congress

Washington, Dec. 7.—American business, 1937 draws to a close, is being judged on a basis that conforms to the normal expectancy, as judged from the regular rate of growth of the country, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon declared today in his annual report to Congress.

Despite some recession in activity that began in the spring, business "can hardly be said to be subnormal and the underlying fundamentals appear to be sound," the secretary said.

Around Mellon described the year as one of continued improvement in the economic and financial status of important countries, with industrial production in Europe rising, volume of exports and domestic trade greater and unemployment on the decline.

While avoiding a forecast for 1938 in his official report Mellon was understood to hold a fairly optimistic view of conditions. His conclusions as to the present year were given as follows:

1. A large volume of business was done simultaneously with declining commodity prices—a unusual combination of circumstances.
2. The volume of new construction remained large, as engineering and industrial and public work projects were in sufficient volume practically to offset a decline in construction of dwellings.
3. High wages, due to increased average productivity per worker, and lower living costs, due to declining prices, resulted in a sustained purchasing power for a large variety of consumers' commodities.
4. Business was free from accumulation of excessive inventories, advance ordering subject to cancellations, and unreasonable speculation in commodities, while a spirit of caution prevailed generally among business men.
5. Automobile production continued at a pace somewhat reduced from the year before, and dangers of a serious slump have been lessened as demands for replacements are now sufficient to absorb about half the year's output.
6. Competition became more intense and the largest profits were made by those concerns capable of introducing economies for capturing the market in adaptation of their markets to the demand.
7. Charges for the use of fixed capital were reduced both on industrial and government securities and on farm loans.
8. Banks in United States increased their loans and investments about $2,000,000,000 at the same time that they reduced somewhat their dependence upon the Federal Reserve System, due mainly to gold imports and a decline in requirements for currency.

Mellon found that the volume of business transacted during the year, when measured by the total money value of check payments through banks outside of New York City, or by the recognized indexes of the physical volume of production, was about three per cent higher than during the prior fiscal year and larger than in any preceding similar period.

"There were three principal exceptions to this increase in business volume—the construction, automobile and iron and steel industries did not move in harmony," Mellon said.

Construction Declines

"New construction declined very slightly, but the year previous had registered such large totals that the fact of a decline is not so important as the smallness of the decline."

"Automobile production declined about 11 per cent."

"The iron and steel industry showed a gain of output production of about 1 percent."

"The increase in general business volume was made with the monthly average of factory employment 2 per cent less than in the prior year, reflecting a higher degree of industrial efficiency."

Industrial advances of the year ending June 30 were not uniform, according to Mellon. Overproduction, it was pointed out, occurred in oil, followed by paper readjustments and declines in earnings of many oil-producing companies.

The cotton textile industry, on the other hand, stimulated by the low prices of its raw material, was more active than for some years. Other textile industries reported a generally larger output. Profits reported by a selected group of 456 corporations for the first half of the calendar year 1937 showed gains, as compared with the same period of 1936, for public utilities, motors and accessories, food and food products, mining and smelting, chemicals, and miscellaneous, but losses for oil, steel, machine manufacturing building supplies and railroads.

RECORD RECOVERY OF CAR IS ESTABLISHED
Machine Stolen and Returned Before Owner's Discovery of Loss

The officers took possession of the machine, a Star coupe, and drove it back to the city. Identity of the owner was ascertained when Sergeant Lesscher's name was found in papers in the car. After a search lasting about an hour, the officers located him at the armory on W. Church and told him of the theft.

Lesscher stated that he had parked the machine near the armory and not having occasion to use it, had not discovered that it was gone.

The officers said it was evidently the intention of the thieves to abandon the machine after stripping it of tires and accessories. They were frightened away, however, before anything was removed.

Entrances Gained to Caledonia Clothing Store; No Loot Taken

Caledonia, Dec. 7.—Burglars entered the Lynn Underwood Clothing Store early Tuesday morning, by breaking the glass in the front door and prying the lock. The would-be robbers tried to attract the attention of the dog by feeding him. Pieces of meat was scattered around over the store floor. The alarm bell awakened James Kasotis who lives across the street from the Underwood store, but not until after the burglars had made their escape.

DECLARES PLAINTIFF WAS NOT IN EMPLOY
Erie Railroad Co. Files Answer in Action Brought by Howard Moore

Asserting that Howard E. Moore was not in its employ on March 1, 1927 when he sustained injuries in an accident, but that he was working for the Railway Service Co., the Erie Railroad Co. defendant in a suit for $100,000 damages brought by Moore, filed an answer in the court of common pleas today asking that the action be dismissed.

The answer also states that Moore received $367.64 from the state workmen's compensation fund on a claim he filed as an employee of the Railway Service Co. following the accident. Allowance of this claim precludes him from any right of action against the Erie Railroad Co., it is declared.

The Railway Service Co. was a local corporation which operated the Erie shops here for several years.

The Erie's answer was filed through its local counsel, Guthrie, Strelitz & Guthrie.

Suits Being Heard

A suit brought by Arthur C. Thompson against John B. Gunder, in which the plaintiff asks judgment for $208.92 on an account, is being heard today before a jury in the court of common pleas. Homer E. Johnson is attorney for the plaintiff and L. E. Myers represents the defendant.

Claims $511.67

A mortgage claim for $511.67 is set up by John W. Galbreath, one of the defendants in the foreclosure action of Nona M. Bolander against James B. Bolander and others, in his answer and cross petition filed in the court of common pleas, yesterday. He asks for sale of the property, described as lot 8004 in John Numa's addition to the city of Marion, for payment of the claim.

The plaintiff, according to her petition asking for foreclosure and sale, holds a mortgage for $3,500.44 on the same property.

Galbreath's answer and cross petition was filed through his attorney, L. B. Sharp of Columbus.

NEED $90,000 FOR OIL FRAUD CASES
Roberts, Pomerene Net $10,000 in Three Years as Government Prosecutors

Washington, Dec. 7.—Owen J. Roberts, the Philadelphia lawyer who, with Albee Pomerene, has spent three years prosecuting the oil fraud cases and won $25,000,000 for the government, has received but $10,000 for his services.

This was disclosed today in a report of the House Appropriations Committee to Congress.

While he was paid $65,000 he can account for $55,000 paid out in actual expenses, he said, adding that Pomerene has done substantially the same.

The House is expected to appropriate $90,000 to meet present needs of the prosecution. For several months the lawyers have been forced to pay nearly all their own expenses or borrow from other government departments.

Officials as well as employees of the American Railway Express Co. are joining Postal authorities and department store heads in urging the public to get its Christmas shopping, mailing and shipping out of the way at an early date. As Christmas falls on Sunday this year it is desirable that all express packages be delivered by Saturday night, E. J. Salter, local agent of the

Mr. Salter says that he is anxious as are all other express agents, to have the Christmas business cleared away by Christmas eve. Besides urging early shipment, Mr. Salter advises careful addressing of packages in order that company workers may handle shipments with expediency.

REINSTATE OUSTED OTTERBEIN STUDENTS

Three Men Ask for Rehearing and Are Put on Probation

Westerville, Dec. 7.—Three men students at Otterbein College who were suspended for alleged participation in a "drinking bout" after the Heidelberg football game, have been reinstated, according to a story carried in the Taz and Cardinal, student paper, appearing today.

The three men asked for a rehearing. It was learned, and additional information gained through their statement, revealed that responsibility for the matter was in reality more widely scattered than was at first thought.

All three involved have been placed on probation, with immediate suspension of the penalty for any further infractions of the college rules. All rights to hold positions of honor and responsibility have been denied the men for a period of one year.

The investigation brought out that while there had been drinking there was no drunkenness and no rioting or boisterous conduct, it was reported today. President W. G. Clippinger would make no comment.

Notice To Employees Of Marion Industrial Plants

Under date of October 5, 1927, a letter was addressed to the Industrial Commission of Ohio as follows:

"To ascertain the intent of the law in regard to employees of various companies in Marion being compelled to go to designated physicians in Industrial accident cases. Also the attitude of the Commission towards the employers who refuse to fill out blanks for injured employees that go to other than their designated physicians."

Their answer under date of October 14, 1927, is as follows:

"There is nothing in the Workman's Compensation law which compels an injured employee to go only to physicians designated by the employer for treatment."

"As to your second inquiry we would advise we find nothing in the law that would require an employer to fill out blanks for injured employees, but employers are, by section 1465-99, of the General Code of Ohio, required to report in writing to the Industrial Commission of Ohio every accident resulting in injury within a week after its occurrence. The entire section referred to reads as follows:

"Every employer of the state shall keep a record of all injuries, fatal or otherwise, received by his employees in the course of their employment. Within a week after the occurrence of an accident resulting in personal injury, a report thereof shall be made in writing to the state liability board of awards upon blank to be procured from the board for that purpose. Such report shall contain the name and nature of the business of the employer, the location of his establishment or place of work, the name, address and occupation of the injured employee and shall state the time, the nature and cause of injury and such other information as may be required by the board. "Any employer who refuses or neglects to make any report required by this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punishable by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500.00) for such offense."

This is being published by this Society to inform employees of their rights in the matter of the choosing the physician of their choice in injury cases.

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG, DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Use the Old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and Nobody Will know

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," for only 75 cents, which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—Adv.

Minor League Officials Recommend Reclassification of All Leagues

Suggest Teams Below B Class Refuse to Take Players From Majors

Plenty of Deals Being Considered by Club Owners and Managers; Jack McAllister Denies He Will Become Umpire Next Season

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 2.—Complete reclassification of all leagues in organized baseball will be effected if a majority of seven assigned to which recommendation of the President of the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs is given.

The committee consists of Tom J. Hager, J. Cal. Ewing, John D. Marston, J. H. Weisman, J. H. Farrell, W. G. Brennan, and J. D. Roberts.

The recommendation requires a population of two million or over for each class. A. class, four hundred thousand; B. class, two hundred thousand; C. class, one hundred thousand; D. class, fifty thousand; E. class, twenty-five thousand; F. class, ten thousand; G. class, five thousand; H. class, two thousand; I. class, one thousand; J. class, five hundred; K. class, two hundred; L. class, one hundred; M. class, fifty; N. class, twenty-five; O. class, ten; P. class, five; Q. class, two; R. class, one; S. class, fifty; T. class, twenty-five; U. class, ten; V. class, five; W. class, two; X. class, one; Y. class, fifty; Z. class, twenty-five.

At a meeting last night, the committee refused to take optional players from the majors. Further action on alleged steam-roller pressure by the Big Leagues will be made at today's session of the convention.

The 1928 convention city will be decided tomorrow. Toronto, Chattanooga, and Terre Haute all have in mind. Toronto was hot after this year's season and is regarded as a likely winner in the three-way battle for the next meeting.

Water deals are expected in large numbers today and tomorrow, most of the delegates admitting that they have been spending their time so far listening and that they are now ready to "talk turkey."

Word was going around today to the effect that Jack McAllister, deposed manager of the Cleveland club, would take a job umpiring in the American League next season. Jack denied the rumor, saying he would not accept the

Famous Manager Says He Isn't Interested in Either One

New York, Dec. 2.—Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker may be all the world to some managers, but they're just a couple of ball players to John J. McGraw of the New York Giants. In stating that the Giants are not seriously interested in either player, McGraw questioned their value as drawing cards and expressed doubt that their acquisition would strengthen the New York team.

McGraw added that, inasmuch as Cobb still belongs to the Athletics and Speaker is the property of the Washington Club, he did not think it advisable to talk business with either of them until they were free agents. Some rumor has it that both players will court in new pastures next season.

Maybe Doc Peltzer Wants to Study Our Running Style, But it Sounds Funny

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—I note without the slightest concern that the Herr Doktor Peltzer is in very good golf-fish with me because I don't care either one way or the other whether the Amateur Athletic Union maintains its preserves or sets them up in one-million jars. Understand me, the good doctor may be here with the best of intentions, if any, meaning that he may not even so much as set a spiked foot in one of our lowest floors but all I know is that he announced his intention of staying here five weeks instead of one week and, in the first place, he could take in the Millrose games and in the second he would be wasting his time entirely and to no purpose.

It is surprising the number of track athletes who do not do the latter, particularly those from abroad.

Personally, I think the A. A. U. should be attacked about the matter, and, if this distributive doesn't come under the head of that definition, then I promise that all foreign individual invasions be ignored. Being very partial to trick myself, I propose to be one of the first out there but otherwise I think you people ought to show these foreigners that we haven't the merest interest in what they may do.

The thing, however, which gets my inverted pajamas is the fact that Uaso Nurni, Emile or No Mile Wide can come over here with perfect decorum and return, as is or as was or what-soever.

The good Doktor, ostensibly, is here to study athletic conditions. I suppose he is going to the University of Pennsylvania to find out why it hasn't won the intercollegiate during recent years, to Chicago to discover the secret of its lack of success in the Western Conference.

Anyway, it may seem to be the part of a doubtful proposition whether the American colleges can give this good or merely fair doctor much information about just how the half mile event should be run. But, having beaten our best time, he is here and so we must suppose that his visit is prompted by the fact that his curiosity about our system is irresistible. He simply must know.

Therefore he is here. He is here in spite of his own athletic authorities, who are understood to have condemned his trip. They warned him about Nurni, who escaped to his dried fish of Finland past ahead of our own conditioners. They warned him about Charles Hoff and I wonder why. Hoff turned professional, as I understood it, with preconcerted intention and made a fortune. He didn't have to do anything to do with it. Frankly, the inside of the story never has been told and may never be.

The A. A. U. has had these wanderers over here before. The fact that Peltzer beat Nurni and Wide at one race and broke Ted Meredith's world record for a half mile in another possibly has nothing to do with the fact that he is in America today. His avowed intention is to study. Let us hope that, while enroute to Australia or elsewhere, he is most studious.

"We had only 10 men out on any one day this season," he declared.

"That is small enough to meet the requirements of one schedule. Last alone two. On account of injuries we had to make back out of line men in some of our games."

"There are some schools with an enrollment large enough to get away with this dual-team plan, but Northwestern is not one of them. Our reserve material is small, I'm afraid; they insist on all schools competing on this basis, it will mean a split in the Big Ten."

MARION WRESTLER LOOKS GOOD TO OHIO WESLEYAN

HANLEY OBJECTS TO TWO-TEAM GRID PLAN

Michigan System Won't Work, He Says; May Disrupt Big Ten, Is Claim

Evansville, Ill., Dec. 7.—Caleb Dick Hanley of Northwestern University, today added his voice to the minority chorus of Big Ten coaches opposed to Michigan's two-team football plan.

"It won't work," said Hanley. "If its adoption is forced on all schools in the conference, it may cause a disruption of the Big Ten."

Hanley said as far as he was concerned, Northwestern would have only one team next season.

"We had only 10 men out on any one day this season," he declared.

"That is small enough to meet the requirements of one schedule. Last alone two. On account of injuries we had to make back out of line men in some of our games."

"There are some schools with an enrollment large enough to get away with this dual-team plan, but Northwestern is not one of them. Our reserve material is small, I'm afraid; they insist on all schools competing on this basis, it will mean a split in the Big Ten."

REDUCED TO 5c!

Thirty Years a Favorite Smoke, Famous Old Cigar Is Now Better Than Ever at a Nickel

Some smokers raise their eyebrows when you say "five-cent cigar." You can't blame them when you think of the average nickel seller. But a nickel cigar can be a wonderful buy. That's where volume production comes in.

There's one cigar on the market selling at five cents now which cost more for years. Today it could not be sold at anywhere near a nickel if it weren't so popular! After smokers try it they forget the price. They keep on buying it. That keeps the volume soaring, and that keeps the price at five cents.

The name is Havana Ribbon. It's mild, mellow, smooth. It's made of ripe tobacco. It's been a success for thirty years. No matter how many times you've been disappointed in five-centers, you owe it to yourself to give Havana Ribbon a trial. You've got an eye-opening surprise coming.

Bad News From Steel Trade Serves As Weapon For Bear Forces

New York, Dec. 7.—Bad news from the steel trade, with current production at the lowest rate in more than a year, and steel mills operations down five per cent in a week, precipitated heavy selling of steel and industrial stocks today. Bearish success in the steel stocks encouraged market attacks against General Motors, American Can, General Electric and other speculative favorites, which declined to the lowest level of the week.

The positive withdrawal of Mr. Coolidge from the presidential race, fear of political controversies in the twentieth congress, inauguration of gold exports to London after a lapse of 13 years, and unfavorable fourth quarterly earnings forecasts for American industrial companies were the principal factors in the financial situation. Bearish operations in the stock market were encouraged also by the sharp and unhealthy advances in the specialty stocks which in Wall Street's judgment have been "strongly armed" beyond reason in recent movements.

The Iron and Steel Institute placed the November steel output at the lowest for that month since 1922, and the smallest for any month since July, 1925. The Iron Age's weekly survey was considerably more hopeful, offering the prospect of a heavy volume of railroad steel buying after the turn of the year. Pig iron buying was reported on the increase at interior points, though Bessemer Iron is down 25 cents a ton at Pittsburgh.

U. S. Steel common lost about a point in the first period, and declined an additional two points to 111 in the next two hours. General Motors absorbed heavy selling, but was forced down to the lowest price of the week. Dupont and other industrial leaders lost one to six points as selling pressure increased.

The first woman to be executed in New York State was Mrs. Margaret Houghteling, who was hanged at Hudson in 1817, six weeks after having been indicted for the murder of her child. She protested her innocence in vain, but several years after her execution another woman on her deathbed confessed she had committed the crime for which Mrs. Houghteling had been executed.

Having removable parts, a new device can be used as six different vehicles for children.
